

Destruction Services

Scheduled programs designed for large hospitals and medical/doctor's office complexes, X-Ray laboratories or legal and business offices. Our service includes a self-managed program of confidential destruction customized to support the entire facility. Customers can save even more by purchasing these services in volume and allow the placement of locked consoles in every office.

Storage Cleanout

Whether you are purging outdated medical, legal or business documents, our shredding services are easy, convenient and are a safe way to dispose of these materials. Compare the cost of our service to the cost and time if your employees take on this project and you will be able to see how our cost effective our programs can be. We have a professionally trained staff available for your one-time or scheduled document purge.

Commodity Reclamation

The Quinlan Companies purchases recycled commodity items. You have a valuable asset in your radiology films and printing presses. It is scrap medical film and aluminum litho plates. We can pick up your scrap materials, insure proper destruction and return to you a credit on your account or pay you in a check. All scrap materials are weighed at your facility on your scales or we can weigh at our facility and notify you within 24 hours of receipt at The Quinlan Companies. A certificate of destruction will be provided to your facility once destruction is completed.

Records Destruction Management

Records can be removed from your Record Library by Quinlan Companies' records management associates who are trained in terminal digit systems or can be purged via a downloaded pull list. The HIPAA Act of 1996 dictates that your records should be transported and destroyed in appropriate format. Once destruction is completed the client will be provided a certified destruction letter for your records.
